Description:

Antique Red Caucasian Kazak Rug Caucasian carpets and rugs are primarily made in villages, rather than in cities. They are made from materials particular to individual tribal provinces, the rugs of the Caucasus normally display bold geometric designs in primary colors. Hand-knotted in the Caucasus Mountains circa the early 1900s using hand-spun wool and natural dyes. From the SW Caucasus, expect lush, high pile rugs; eye catching, vigorous geometries; and broad areas of brilliant natural dyes. Kazak rugs are the sine qua non of antique Caucasian rugs. Colors: reds/ivory/blue/brown.
