Description:

-A wonderful antique circa 1900 Kirman rug in tones of blue with an abrash in the blues. An abrash is a natural change in color that occurs when different dyes are used and is very common in antique pieces which give individuality to the rug. Kirman is the capital of the province in south Persia of the same name. Situated 2000 meters above sea level. As elsewhere in Persia carpet weaving declined during the 18th century and was revived during the second half of the 19th century, since when Kirman carpets have enjoyed a considerable reputation. -
