Description:

Antique Subdued Persian Malayer Runner 3'3 x 12'10. A soft and delightful looking vintage 1920's runner hand woven in Malayer Persia. The floral and vine designs in the field and border create a piece that will enhance and add beauty to a room. Malayer, located just east of Hamadan in northwest Iran, has long been a center for finely woven tribal and village rugs. While often grouped under the Hamadan umbrella, Malayer rugs distinguish themselves through tighter weaves, more complex patterns, and a delicate touch in color composition. This piece exemplifies that legacy. It's a rare find—suited as much to a contemporary gallery setting as it is to a well-appointed traditional home.
